

A Call for a Closer Collaboration Between Animal and Human Health to Effectively Combat New Epidemics at Source

SAVE THE DATE
Amsterdam, Monday 16th of March, 2015

Sharing the same living environment, people and animals are exposed to common pathogens.
Human and animal medicine can get stronger
in joining efforts to combat diseases.

Amsterdam, Monday 16th of March, 2015

Symposium from 6:30 - 7:30 pm

Venue: Amsterdam RAI (Europaplein 24 – Amsterdam), Main Auditorium

A Call for a Bloser Bollaboration Between Animal and Human Health to Effectively
Combat New Epidemics at Source

With the participation of:

- Mr. Alejandro Bernal - President of IFAH – IFAH’s perspective on “One Health” – Belgium
- Professor Adrian Hill - Head of Jenner Institute - Oxford University – “Rapid responses to new epidemics” – UK
- Professor Dr. Anton Pijpers - Vice President of the board of Utrecht University – The need of new antimicrobials in humans and animals – The Netherlands
- Dr. Emmanuel Hannon - Head of vaccine research at GSK – The need for “One Health” innovation and alliances in Human health – Belgium (To Be Confirmed)
- Dr. Michelle Haven - Head of Corporate Development, Alliances and Solutions at Zoetis – The need for “One Health” innovation and alliances in Animal health – USA

Press contacts:

Audrey Saluzzo • T: +33 (0)1 47 59 56 34 • E: asaluzzo@webershandwick.com
Raphaële Vauconsant • T: +33 (0)1 47 59 38 95 • E: rvauconsant@webershandwick.com

REPLY COUPON

Journalist name:

Publication:

- Will attend Symposium
- Won't attend but would like to receive the press kit
- Not interested

Amsterdam, Monday 16th of March, 2015

Media Round Table from 7:30 - 8:00 pm

Venue: Amsterdam RAI (Europaplein 24 – Amsterdam), room TBC

How can Closer links between Animal health and Human health can benefit to society

With the participation of:

- Mr. Alejandro Bernal - President of IFAH – IFAH's perspective on “One Health” – Belgium
- Professor Adrian Hill - Head of Jenner Institute - Oxford University – “Rapid responses to new epidemics” – UK
- Professor Dr. Anton Pijpers - Vice President of the board of Utrecht University – The need of new antimicrobials in humans and animals – The Netherlands
- Dr. Emmanuel Hannon - Head of vaccine research at GSK – The need for “One Health” innovation and alliances in Human health – Belgium (To Be Confirmed)
- Dr. Michelle Haven - Head of Corporate Development, Alliances and Solutions at Zoetis – The need for “One Health” innovation and alliances in Animal health – USA

Press contacts:

Audrey Saluzzo • T: +33 (0)1 47 59 56 34 • E: asaluzzo@webershandwick.com
Raphaële Vauconsant • T: +33 (0)1 47 59 38 95 • E: rvauconsant@webershandwick.com

REPLY COUPON

Journalist name:

Publication:

- Will attend Media Round Table
- Won't attend but would like to receive the press kit
- Not interested